

Water hero vs. water villain trading cards

Now it's your turn to create your very own Water Hero or Water Villain.

Jaz

Water hero

Clever quoll gathers their friends together and tells everyone how to save water.

Special power

Quolls can get all the water they need from the food they eat. This helps them stay strong when there isn't much water around!

Steps

1. Choose a character: Will your character be a Water Hero who saves water or a Water Villain who wastes it?

Special power

2. Pick a name: Think of a name that shows what your character does. For example, Drip Defender is a hero who fixes leaks.

3. Draw your character: Make a fun picture of your character.

4. Write about them: Write a few sentences about what your character does. Heroes save water, and villains waste it.

5. Special powers: What makes your character special? A hero might use rainwater for plants, while a villain might leave the hose on when it's hot.

6. Share with the class: Show your character to everyone in class. Does your character help, or hurt our water?
